Samantha Jean Forbis from Facebook (December 27, 2017, 5:38 am) As a current undergraduate that is pursuing a double major in Management at Anderson, I think I may be among the most qualified to rate this organization. Personally, I think the school is amazing. The standards at Anderson are high, and following that trend, the faculty are of very high quality as well. I was fortunate enough to become involved with a professional group founded by a current Anderson faculty member. The group is called International Business Student...s Global and the faculty member's name is Dr. Manuel Montoya. Both the group and the professor have accomplished extraordinary feats, furthering businesses and socially impactful initiatives while including students to create a meaningful and productive college experience. To illustrate what I'm referring to, I'll share my engagement. So far, I feel that this school is under the expectations for a university, not only do students feel ripped off, but also are being ripped out. Security's too small.
